We won’t be fooled - we
-----

"Best delegates were lousy" months ago. We’re awfully sometimes, and it didn’t get into the paper then. So it’s a bit out of date, saying “To be continued - ending: ‘And they lived happily blind - now we see what’s going as WOAAC chairman, summar­ land.

izes the growth of the poor, “Our schools so

because the administration found it too dumb

their

with ity of the membership by by­ being, the best delegates were loosely because they were not allowed to function.” Explained

Bill Lowe.

We must organize again. We must move out of the narrow box of ideas and policies from within the target areas. That is composed of every area involves each separate area.

If TRAP, which avoids what TAAC did, it will succeed.

TAAC had little faith in charalms and the potential of the poor community. Their words and actions were largely directed toward the non-poverty community. They were not aware of the power of the board’s agenda. Can’t you?

And this lack of faith in the poor community is a pattern that

TRAP must stop. TRAP’s objectives and tactics should be based on the wishes of the poor community.

As Bill Lowe puts it “It must be from the bottom up.”

Let us not let TRAP be our counter part to the TRAP.

Let’s discontinue our individual works and efforts by belonging to a big organization which must be composed of Representatives of communities and the strength of

TRAP is dependent upon the strength of each area. A pyramid’s strength is the base if we broaden the base, we can build higher.

"Community building

-- the answer"

The TRAP building.

We must put the accent where it counts the most -- in the hands of the people. That is, in most cases, still poor.

My point is this: when you step, demand the service your dollars stand for.

For instance, why are you adressed by most segment members, and those costumes as “lower” or “bass”?

Some of them even say “Sitting.”

Go any place where the poor do, and you find inferior services. Why don’t we demand what is due us?

I’ll never understand why most of us put up with it.

TRAP will be no heaven on earth, no promised land waiting for us. Only the development of our individual community resources will give us power. The amount to which we develop and strengthen our community is the amount to which TRAP can work for us.

We can function honorably only when each separate area produces and organizes itself separa­ ly.

Why do we who are poor, low income or what have you, stand

therefore, less than first class service

when we trade in the big stores?

I have always been poor, new by the standards of society. I am considered to be low-income which is,

in most cases, still poor.

My point is this: when you step,

demand the service your dollar

stands for.

For instance, why are you ad­

ressed by most segment members, and those costumes as “bass” or “bass”?

Some of them even say “Sitting.”

Go any place where the poor
do, and you find inferior services.

Why don’t we demand what is due us?

I’ll never understand why most of us put up with it.

Thoughts and/or in all a day’s work

by Gloria Comfort

To be continued.

Why do we who are poor, low

income or what have you, stand

therefore, less than first class service

when we trade in the big stores?

I have always been poor, new by

the standards of society. I am considered to be low-income which is,

in most cases, still poor.

My point is this: when you step,

demand the service your dollar

stands for.

For instance, why are you ad­

ressed by most segment members, and those costumes as “bass” or “bass”?

Some of them even say “Sitting.”

Go any place where the poor
do, and you find inferior services.

Why don’t we demand what is due us?

I’ll never understand why most of us put up with it.

Thoughts and/or in all a day’s work

by Gloria Comfort

To be continued.

Why do we who are poor, low

income or what have you, stand

therefore, less than first class service

when we trade in the big stores?

I have always been poor, new by

the standards of society. I am considered to be low-income which is,

in most cases, still poor.

My point is this: when you step,

demand the service your dollar

stands for.

For instance, why are you ad­

ressed by most segment members, and those costumes as “bass” or “bass”?

Some of them even say “Sitting.”

Go any place where the poor
do, and you find inferior services.

Why don’t we demand what is due us?

I’ll never understand why most of us put up with it.

Thoughts and/or in all a day’s work

by Gloria Comfort

To be continued.

Why do we who are poor, low

income or what have you, stand

therefore, less than first class service

when we trade in the big stores?

I have always been poor, new by

the standards of society. I am considered to be low-income which is,

in most cases, still poor.

My point is this: when you step,

demand the service your dollar

stands for.

For instance, why are you ad­

ressed by most segment members, and those costumes as “bass” or “bass”?

Some of them even say “Sitting.”

Go any place where the poor
do, and you find inferior services.

Why don’t we demand what is due us?

I’ll never understand why most of us put up with it.

Thoughts and/or in all a day’s work

by Gloria Comfort

To be continued.